Annual Report Agent, Board of Health

The Board of Health reappointed Walter W. Lee, M.D. as Agent and Paul Doneilo as Milk Inspector.

The only communicable disease reported was one case of whooping cough.

Diphtheria immunization was offered. Three children under six years were immunized, three had been done prior to 1937 and three were not protected, making a total of sixty-seven percent of children under six years of age protected against diphtheria.

The tuberculin test was offered to all children over six months of age, and seventeen were tested and all were negative to the tuberculin test.

SANITATION

One nuisance was brought to the attention of the agent. A taxpayer complained that in repairing the road in front of his house the cellar drain was exposed to the frost and became blocked. It was recommended that the town repair the drain.

A sanitary inspection was made of milk dealers and producers selling milk at retail in the town at frequent intervals. The samples as analyzed at the laboratory of the Franklin County Health District gave the following average for the year: for raw milk sold as such the bacteria count was 10,000 per cubic centimeter and the average butter fat 4.65 percent.

A sample of milk was collected during the year for analysis giving a butter fat of 8.50 and total solids 17.84, other such analyses are on record, but not very frequently found.

Nine private water supplies were examined and analysis of the water made. Six were found to be safe, pure water supplies, one showed pollution and two were doubtful supplies.

Respectfully submitted,

PAUL DONEILO
Milk Inspector

WALTER W. LEE, M.D.
Agent, Board of Health

"Two Hundred Years in Retrospect"*A Pageant of Shutesbury

With Prologue and Nine Episodes Written and Directed by Roy W. French

Prologue*Dance of the Cloud

Time proceeds to a seat of vantage—there to point out to youth the importance of a reverent and reliant background and to review the events of 200 years. Youngsters of various periods exemplify the changes in attire which have transpired since settlement days to which Time comments, "What matter the raiment if the heart and mind be right."

Present: Ann E. Crossman, Roger E. Crossman.

Episode 1

Armed guards protect surveyors as they proceed to lay out road between Lancaster and Sunderland. Indians appear but show a friendly attitude and assurance is given that no hostile relations between the red men and the white will exist so far as the town of Shutesbury is concerned. (History discloses that no feuds ever occurred between the Indians and settlers of Shutesbury.)

Roadtown they called Shutesbury until June 30, 1761, when it received its present name in honor of Samuel Shute, governor of Massachusetts Bay Colony from 1716 to 1723. ### Episode 3

Shays, Cady and Dickinson meet in an all-night session to discuss their action with regard to joining the Continental army. They are joined by the Tory minister, Rev. Mr. Hill, who endeavors to influence them against taking up arms opposing the mother country. The latter's endeavors are of no avail and the patriots march away to perform their duty as they see it while townspeople erect Liberty pole and heckle Tory minister.

Jeremiah Cady: Ralph F. Smith.

Jonathan Dickinson: Chester N. Tupper.

Rev. Abraham Hill: Alfred B. Moulton.

That old prairie schooner "bound" for Faribault, Minn., enters the green and as the driver makes sure that bolts are secure and axles well greased, "emigrants" gather for the long overland trip. Friends come with gifts and the departing group is wished God-speed. It was back in 1850 that a number of Shutesbury families went to Faribault in search of new homes, new friends, new opportunities.

Report of The Superintendent of Schools

To the School Committee and the Citizens of Shutesbury:

Your superintendent of schools is pleased to submit herewith his third annual report.

There was one change in the teaching personnel of the Shutesbury schools during 1937. Miss Janet Benson who had filled the position of teacher of the lower grades most acceptably since the beginning of the year, resigned in September to accept a more lucrative postion in Seekonk, Massachusetts. To fill the vacancy, we were most fortunate in securing the services of Miss Marion Shaw of Brockton, Massachusetts. She graduated from the State Teachers' College at Bridgewater in June after completing the four year course and receiving the degree of Bachelor of Science in Education. Miss Shaw is a thoroughly fine type of teacher who is vitally interested in her work.

Mr. Ralph Smith as principal and teacher of the upper grades continues to give us a high quality of service. He is worthy of a better position and higher salary.

72 REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Our schools are functioning more smoothly and more is being accomplished. The revision of the course of study has been held in abeyance, pending the recommendations of the Department of Elementary Education which is about to make a systematic survey of the rural schools of the state.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

Attendance in the Shutesbury schools does not reach a high average. This does not imply that many absences are avoidable. Pupils who are ill should not be in school and parents are urged, for the sake of the other school children, to keep at home any child who shows any possibility of being ill. There is an attendance contest among the schools of Erving, Leverett, Shutesbury, and Wendell. The room with the highest attendance rating for any given month is designated as the custodian of the attendance banner which is inscribed "Best Attendance in Union 39." The attendance contest is not conducted with any thought of placing a child's presence in school above his health. All teachers and children understand that no child is to be censured by the pupils or teacher when his absence for sickness means a lowering of the attendance record.

The matter of inaugurating a punctuality contest was discussed at the general teachers' meeting in September. It was decided that there was little need for it as there were few instances of tardiness.

AMERICAN EDUCATION WEEK

This year American Education Week was observed in all the schools. The evening sessions were omitted. In a great many communities evening classes develop into a mere putting on of a show for the parents. No real idea of actual classroom procedure can be obtained when a room is overcrowded with visitors. This year parents and friends were invited to come to the schools any day. A much better idea of what was going on was obtained. It is felt that more parents ought to make it a point to visit school and it is recommended that all ought to come to our schoolrooms during the morning sessions. This will involve some sacrifice of time from the usual daily routine but any inconvenience ought to prove worthwhile. Children usually take a keener interest in their scholastic accomplishments when they know that their parents are taking enough interest in their school to visit it several times a year. Our teachers will appreciate such an interest also.

UNION 39 TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

All the teachers of the Erving Union met in Shutesbury in September to hear Mr. Hugh Nixon, Secretary of the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation, present his arguments for the formation of an association whose membership would comprise the teachers of the union. As a result, at a subsequent meeting in Leverett, it was voted unanimously to form a local club to be known as the Union 39 Teachers' Association. The objects of this association are "to promote the interests of teachers, to form a closer bond among them by means of social intercourse, and friendly co-operation, and to increase the efficiency of education as a public service." The club is affiliated with the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation and its members receive the "Massachusetts Teacher", a professional magazine devoted to education in Massachusetts.

Our teachers' club has taken for its major objective this year a careful study of report cards and marking systems. Several enthusiastic meetings have been held at which there was much discussion and expression of individual opinions. Some questions discussed are the following: (1) Are you satisfied with the present report card?; (2) Do you prefer letter marks, A, B, C, etc? % marks — 69 percent, 79 percent, 80 percent, etc.?; (3) Should the three C's—Character, Courtesy, Citizenship—have more or less prominence than at present?; (4) Should pupils be marked on a competitive basis?; (5) Should report cards go home every month or every two months?; (6) Should personal letters from teachers concerning each child's progress replace the traditional report card? These are a few of the items that are being considered. It has been suggested that the parents be given an opportunity to express their opinions and so it is expected that a questionnaire will be sent out in order that all persons interested shall have a chance to help improve on our present system of reporting pupil progress.

TEXT BOOKS

There has been little in the way of change in text-books. A course in science has been introduced in the seventh and eighth grades. This has been done in order that our graduates upon entering the ninth grade at Amherst will be prepared to enter on the science work there. The texts used are the same as are being used in the Amherst seventh and eighth grades. The course is entitled "A Survey of Science" by Powers, Neuner and Bruner. This is a new and popular series for the junior high school grades which carries out the recommendations of the Thirty-first Yearbook of the National Society for the Study of Education, Part I, "A Program for Teaching Science." "Living things, including man, are dependent upon one another and upon the physical environment" is the fundamental concept on which the series is based. Upon this unifying theme is built a course that is a thoroughly integrated whole, deep in its significance and broad in its scope. Each book develops a theme to which all material is related. The first describes the environment. The second book views the environment in its dynamic aspect as the expression of ceaseless change. In the third volume man is emphasized as a major factor modifying the environment to serve his purposes. In each book large units of work, divided into conveniently arranged chapters, set up challenging problems and develop important scientific concepts. Each unit is preceded by a table of contents and a motivating statement of its problems, purposes and scope. Each chapter is followed by a summary, thought questions, and projects and activities. The books are abundantly and fascinatingly illustrated.

VISUAL EDUCATION

The time is not far distant when all schools equipped with electricity will feature visual education. Thousands are now doing it. It is hoped that Shutesbury will be able to inaugurate soon something along this line. What is visual education? It is a method of teaching whereby the teacher makes use of various kinds of illustrative material to develop in the minds of her pupils concrete imagery. The correct mental impressions afford a background of experience which enables the child to perceive relationships, apply laws and principles, and form desirable generalizations. It is a technique which is based on the principle that concreteness must precede abstraction.

The greatest of all aids to visual instruction is, of course the motion picture. Equipped with a motion picture projector, we should be able to take advantage of the many films available at little or no expense. The Castle

Films of New York have just issued an announcement of free educational motion picture reels. Their films are the handiwork of a group of highly trained writers and technicians who have had years of training. The films are passed upon before release to the school field by a group of recognized authorities of visual education to determine their educational value. One reel, taken at random from the catalog, is entitled, "Corn, the Golden Grain." Suggested uses: The Westward Movement in United States History; Sources and Values of Foods in Home Economics and Social Science, Botany, Geography and Agriculture. This film brings one of the greatest agricultural and food industries of our country into the classroom. It shows how the soil is plowed and prepared for planting with efficient machinery; and how the corn is planted and cultivated at different stages of its growth. The complete life cycle of the corn plant is illustrated with animated drawings. Each step in the process from the chemical analysis, assuring purity, to the packaging and shipping is clearly illustrated. The picture concludes with illustrations of the food value of corn.

The Massachusetts Department of Education issues a bulletin entitled "Visual Aids for Teaching" in which are listed a large number of motion picture reels for use in the classroom. With all this wealth of visual education material almost at our very doorstep, it seems that the time has arrived when we should equip our school system with a projector which would bring to our children the advantages which so many in our state are now enjoying.

REPAIRS AND IMPROVEMENTS

Many minor repairs and replacements have been made. Also many major improvements have been made during the past year. The school building has been painted both inside and out. A new floor has been laid in the outside hall. A year ago only $6.95 was expended in repairs. This year we have spent $131.98. We have purchased two modern teachers' desks which are appreciated sincerely by our teachers. Improved soap dispensers have been installed in both rooms. These use powdered soap. It has been demonstrated in the schools of Erving during the past year that this kind of soap is far superior to the liquid soaps heretofore used. The expense is much less. There is no waste and no leakage due to breakage.

FINANCES

Your committee is pleased to report that there is an unexpended balance for 1937 of $349.03. To carry on our schools adequately in 1938 an appropriation of $6,000 plus the unexpended balance for 1937 should be sufficient.

Your attention is especially directed to the following:

Your attention is especially invited to the following statement:
Amount expended for schools during 1937	$6,517.37
Received from the State of Massachusetts (reimbursement for schools)
School Fund, Part I (on account of salaries)	$327.50

CONCLUSION

Our special teachers, Mrs. Clara Mason, music; Mrs. Evelyn LeValley, art, and Miss Joyce Poole, school nurse, all deserve special mention for the high quality of work which they are giving our school children. Your attention is called to their reports.

Your superintendent wishes to take this opportunity to mention his appreciation of the splendid co-operation which has been given him by the school committee which is functioning in an efficient and harmonious manner. He appreciates the friendly attitude of pupils, parents and teachers. It is a pleasure to work in Shutesbury. Our schools are improving. Anyone who has suggestions to offer or criticisms to make, should not hesitate to get in touch with our teachers, school committee and superintendent. We are always open to suggestions which will benefit our schools and we are always striving to make them more efficient and progressive.

"If ever there was a cause, if ever there can be a cause, worthy to be upheld by all of toil or sacrifice that the human heart can endure, it is the cause of education."

Report of Supervisor of Music

To the School Committee, Superintendent of Schools and Citizens of Shutesbury:

It is with pleasure that I submit my annual report.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS 81

The usual schedule of work has been carried on with special stress on tone, time, note reading and expression when singing. Each child in the upper grades has been taught how to use the baton. The music in the Christmas cantata was led by one of the boys from this room. Christmas music by the third and fourth grades was led by a girl in the second grade. It was plain to see the value of having a leader for music by the success of the Christmas cantata.

A very successful operetta was given by the schools last June.

Boys and girls in the upper grades have been taught how to tune and play pieces on glass tumblers and nails.

It is thought by the music department that a rhythm band should be purchased for the lower grade room. These bands help to teach each child how to keep time. Also, it is very advantageous for young children to listen to music. They will at first listen with their ears but later it will penetrate to their souls.

Rhythm and melody are the two foundation stones upon which to build the exquisite structure of music. No better training can be given than in the basic elements of rhythm and melody.

I take this opportunity to thank the school committee, superintendent of schools, teachers, parents and pupils who have made this a successful year for music.

Respectfully submitted,

Report of Drawing Supervisor

To the School Committee, Superintendent of Schools and Citizens of the Town of Shutesbury:

During my visit in October to the schools of Shutesbury I noticed a great gain in the children's confidence in their ability to draw. When I asked them to draw for me a memory picture of something interesting, there was not nearly the shyness there has been heretofore. This is a great step forward and it pleased me very much.

In every room the children seemed to have more interest and enthusiasm in their work. This of course is due to the splendid co-operation given me by the teachers and the superintendent. It is they who deserve the praise for the good work done in the classrooms and for the many excellent posters that were sent to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Respectfully submitted, the fall. As many children as would avail themselves of the opportunity were inoculated against diphtheria. I can report that there have been no epidemics during the past year. The schools seem to be in good shape physically and there is nothing constructive that I can suggest at present.

Report of Public Health and School Nurse

A high school student once said, "When I was little, I did not want to go to the dentist but now I wish my parents had made me." On the other hand another said, "I never liked going to the dentist but I was made to go and I sure am thankful that my parents insisted. Now I have good teeth and will certainly take care of them."

Which remark is your boy or girl apt to make when he is starting out on his own and realizes from personal experience how important good teeth are?

Parents should insist on things that are good, for in time the child will appreciate the foresight for his own future.

84 REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

Girls especially should be made to realize that good teeth are a lot more beautifying than finger waves or permanents. These luxuries should never be indulged in until a trip to the dentist and the bill for all necessary dental work is paid for. Waves are often covered up with hats but we never open our mouths without our teeth showing. None can deny that pretty teeth may make an otherwise plain face lovely.

A brief report of the work in the town and schools is as follows:

Part was taken in formulating and developing a health education program based on the needs of the pupils.

The school physician was assisted in the annual examination of the pupils and the findings interpreted to teachers, parents and children.

The value of adequate health supervision and facilities for medical and nursing care stressed and assisted with the securing of correction of defects.

Pupils inspected. Teachers, parents and pupils instructed to observe and recognize deviations from normal health.

Control of communicable diseases assisted through teaching the recognition of early symptoms, the importance of isolation, and the value of immunization.

The maintenance of a healthful school environment promoted—physical, emotional and social.

Arranged for the care of emergency and minor injuries and illnesses in accordance with medical standing orders.

Participated in the program for the prevention of handicaps and the care and education of handicapped children.

Relationships developed to coordinate school nursing activities with all other health forces of the school, home and community and community health resources promoted.

Curriculum making participated in. At present, the Junior Red Cross First Aid Course is being given to the seventh and eighth grade boys and girls.

Co-operation was given in preparing for a Field Day in May at New Salem following an invitation from Mr. Nickerson, Superintendent of Schools, to join the New Salem elementary grades in a joint Field Day. At the Academy Athletic Field, games, contests and refreshments were enjoyed by the pupils of both towns.

Arrangements were made for one girl to attend the Greenfield Health Camp for four weeks.

Dental Clinics were arranged so that, with the assistance of the Board of Health, twenty-one children were served by the Red Cross Dental Clinic.

A Well-Child Conference was arranged with the assistance of the Board of Health, the Franklin County Health District, and the Franklin County Extension Service. All these either assisted with financial aid or sent specialists to instruct the mothers attending. Nine pre-school and infants were brought to the conference.

"As the flower is the forerunner of the fruit,
So man's childhood is the promise of his life."

Children found to have a definite hearing loss with the audiometer tests in the schools were taken to the Clarke School for the Deaf for examination in the research department there to determine whether anything could be done to correct the defect.

Dr. Lee, Director, Franklin County Health District, was assisted with the Tuberculin Test which was given in the schools this year. Seventeen children had the test.

Bed-side nursing visits were made in the homes whenever necessary.

Toxiod Clinics to prevent Diphtheria were arranged for in the schools. Seven children received the three inoculations for protection against the dread disease.

Although health education is more or less intangible, each year finds us just a little bit ahead; a few more children getting their teeth fixed at their own dentists', or at the clinic; a few more mothers giving their babies and their older children Cod Liver Oil during the Winter months; a few more parents making sure that the children get one quart of milk a day and some fresh green vegetable; a few more parents insisting on early bed-times for the children; a few more children protected against diphtheria; a few more children having the Tuberculin Test insuring early case finding; and last but just as important if not more so, a few more influential people becoming interested in what can be done to prevent illness and promote health not only among children but adults as well.

I take this opportunity to express appreciation for the active co-operation of parents, teachers, interested citizens, and town officials in the Health Program.

Summary of State Audit

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
Department of Corporations and Taxation
Division of Accounts
State House, Boston

October 26, 1937

To the Board of Selectmen
Mr. Clarence M. Haskell, Chairman
Shutesbury, Massachusetts.

Gentlemen:

I submit herewith my report of an audit of the accounts of the town of Shutesbury for the period from August 28, 1934, to September 11, 1937, made in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 44, General Laws. This is in the form of a report made to me by Mr. Herman B. Dine, Assistant Director of Accounts.

Very truly yours,

THEODORE N. WADDELL,
TNW-MEF Director of Accounts

SUMMARY OF STATE AUDIT

89

Mr. Theodore N. Waddell
Director of Accounts
Department of Corporations and Taxation
State House, Boston.

Sir:

As directed by you, I have made an audit of the books and accounts of the town of Shutesbury for the period from August 28, 1934, the date of the previous audit, to September 11, 1937, and submit the following report thereon.

The financial transactions, as recorded in the books of the several departments receiving or disbursing money for the town or sending out bills for collection, were examined and checked.

Ledger accounts were compiled and a balance sheet, which is appended to this report, was prepared, showing the financial condition of the town on September 11, 1937. The balance sheet indicates that the town is in very good financial condition.

The surety bonds of the treasurer, collector, and town clerk for the faithful performance of their duties were examined and found to be in proper form.

The records of the licenses granted by the selectmen were checked with the record of licenses issued, and the payments to the treasurer were verified.

The books and accounts of the treasurer were examined and checked in detail. The receipts, as recorded, were compared with the records in the departments collecting money for the town and with the other sources from which money was paid into the town treasury. The payments were checked with the selectmen's warrants, the cash book additions were verified, and the cash balance on September 11, 1937, was proved by actual count of the cash on hand and by a reconciliation of the bank balance with a statement furnished by the bank of deposit. Special funds in the custody of the treasurer were verified by an examination of the savings bank book.

SUMMARY OF STATE AUDIT

The tax title deeds in the custody of the treasurer were listed and checked with the accounts of the treasurer and the collector.

The books and accounts of the tax collector were examined and checked. The taxes outstanding at the time of the previous examination were audited, and all subsequent commitment lists of taxes were proved with the assessors' warrants. The collections as recorded were checked, the payments to the treasurer were verified, the recorded abatements were proved by a comparison with the assessors' records of abatements granted, and the outstanding accounts were listed and proved. The cash balance on September 11, 1937, temporarily deposited in the collector's personal checking account due to his illness, was paid into the town treasury during the progress of the audit.

Verification of the outstanding accounts was made by sending notices to a number of persons whose names appeared on the books as owing money to the town and from the replies received it appears that the outstanding accounts, as listed, are correct.

It was noted that no commitment of 1937 motor vehicle excise taxes had been made by the assessors to the collector of taxes to September 11, 1937, the audit date.

The deficit in the overlay account of 1936 amounting to $16.64 on September 11, 1937, together with the amount of any additional abatements that may be granted on taxes of 1936, should be provided for in the levy of 1938.

The receipts of the town clerk for dog and sporting licenses were checked with the records of licenses issued. The payments to the State and to the town treasurer were verified.

The recorded receipts of the sealer of weights and measures were checked with the records of fees charged and the payments to the treasurer were verified.

The records of accounts receivable in the public welfare and old age assistance departments were examined. The recorded collections were compared with the treasurer's record of receipts, and the outstanding accounts were listed and proved.

The securities, including savings bank books, representing the investment of trust funds in the custody of the town treasurer were examined and listed. The income and withdrawals were checked and verified.

Appended to this report, in addition to the balance sheet, are tables showing a reconciliation of the treasurer's cash, summaries of the tax and departmental accounts, as well as tables showing the transactions and condition of the trust funds.

While engaged in making the audit, co-operation was received from all town officials, for which, on behalf of my assistants and for myself, I wish to express appreciation.

Respectfully submitted,

HERMAN B. DINE,

Assistant Director of Accounts

HBD-MEF
